WIFE, ILL, SLEPT ON SPRINGS; HUSBAND KEPT ONLY MATTRESS

WITNESS AT CORONER'S INQUEST INTO DEATH OF MRS. SEYMOUR IDE TESTIFIED.

WOMAN DIED SUNDAY MORNING

Daughter Testified Father Had Beaten Mother and Threatened Her Life.

Mrs. Margaret Lowery Ide passed away at the Dixon hospital at 8:20 o'clock Sunday morning, death resulting from injuries she received about two months ago, which necessitated her being removed to the hospital, and the removal of one eye. A post mortem examination was held Sunday afternoon and as a result of conditions found by the surgeons it was thought advisable that Coroner Stephan be called. He arrived in Dixon this morning and at 2 o'clock this afternoon took up the inquisition at the Morris & Preston morgue.

Margaret Lowery was a daughter of the late George W. Lowery and was born in Nachusa township Sept. 8, 1880. She was united in marriage to Seymour Ide in 1898 and ever since had resided in this locality. She is survived by four daughters and two sons, namely: Misses Jessie, Blanche, Frances and Bessie and George and Lawrence, all of this city. She also leaves six sisters and two brothers, as follows: Mesdames Susan Lengle of Maytown; John Heckman, Nachusa; G. W. Barnes, Maytown; Fred Thurm, of Dixon; C. H. Mossholder, Nachusa and Oscar Heckman of Davis Junction, and William and Albert Lowery of Kinsman, Ill.

The funeral services will be held on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Morris & Preston chapel on East First street.

Started Inquest.

After impelling a jury composed of R. C. Bovey, Lee Dysart, E. H. Rickard, Julie Williams, Frank Coe and G. B. Shaw, Coroner Stephan adjourned the inquest to the circuit court rooms, where States Attorney Edwards conducted the examination of witnesses. At 3 o'clock Dr. W. R. Parker, Dr. G. P. Powell, Fred Thurm, a brother-in-law of the deceased, and Blanche and Jessie Ide, aged 9 and 14 respectively, daughters of the dead woman, had been examined.

Woman Was Neglected

Dr. Parker testified that when he had been first called to attend Mrs. Ide she showed signs of having been neglected; that she was helpless on a bed, composed of only springs and blanket, while Ide himself was sleeping on the only mattress in the house; that one eye was nearly gone and had to be removed at the hospital, and that the woman was suffering from an abortion which had evidently been caused by a blow.

One daughter, Blanche, testified that her father had beaten her mother, struck at her with chairs, etc., at various times, and had threatened her life many times. The testimony of the others will be covered more fully in tomorrow's Telegraph, the inquest having been adjourned until 11 o'clock to obtain the evidence of witnesses who were unable to be present this afternoon.

Fred Thurm testified that Ide admitted to his mother, while at the county jail, that he was guilty of striking his wife, but that he later denied it. The daughter Jessie testified that her father had knocked her mother's teeth out on one occasion and had beaten her several times.

OFFER $5,000 VILLA REWARD

Iowans Adopt Method Used to Rid Land of Jesse James.

Humboldt, Ia., Mar. 13.—Residents of Humboldt are raising a $5,000 reward to be paid to the man who captures or kills Francisco Villa.

James Dean, a storekeeper at Columbus, N. M., killed in the rail Thursday, formerly lived here. A number of business men and farmers have donated $100 each to the reward fund.

NEW BRIDGE OVER I.C. TRACKS PLANNED NOW

DANGEROUS STRUCTURE SOUTH OF CITY TO BE REBUILT IN A SHORT TIME.

WILL STRAIGHTEN OUT HIGHWAY

The road officials of South Dixon township met here Saturday in consultation with Supervisor of Highways L. B. Neighbour and States Attorney Edwards with reference to entering into a contract with the Illinois Central railroad for the erection of an overhead bridge where the railroad crosses the road south of the Judd corners. There is an angle in the highway and the bridge crosses the track diagonally making it impossible to see very far ahead in either direction. Several accidents have occurred here and last summer an automobile went through the fence at the south approach and rolled down the embankment.

It is proposed to build the structure so a better view of the road can be had. Both approaches will be widened and the improvement will remove another dangerous place in highways leading to Dixon.

MICHAEL MITCHELL DIED SUNDAY NIGHT

PASSED AWAY AFTER SHORT ILLNESS—FUNERAL WEDNESDAY MORNING.

Michael B. Mitchell passed away on Sunday night at 11 o'clock at his home, 1110 Fourth street, after a few days' illness, death resulting from intestinal trouble. He had to give up work at the Brown shoe factory Wednesday but his condition did not grow serious until Saturday. The funeral will be held Wednesday at 9:30 from the home and at 10 a. m. from St. Patrick's church.

Mr. Mitchell was born in the County of Galway, Ireland, and was about 63 years of age. When young he came to the United States and for a number of years has resided in Lee county. He is survived by his wife and five children. They are: Mesdames Burke and Katherine Baker, and John and Wm. Mitchell, all of Dixon and Patrick H. Mitchell of Creston, Iowa.

MONTEREY PRESIDIO WAS BURNED

Destroyed By Fire Six Hours After Troops Left for Mexico.

(Associated Press)

Monterey, Cal., Feb. 13.—The Monterey Presidio was destroyed by fire this morning, six hours after it had been vacated by troops who left for the Mexican border. The water supply had been cut off.

WILL RESIST ENTRY OF U.S. ARMY TO MEXICO WITHOUT HIS CONSENT; U.S. MAY GRANT RECIPROCAL PACT

SAYS HIS POSITION REFLECTS NATIONAL SENTIMENT OF HIS PEOPLE.

ASKS RECIPROCITY

Says United States Must Grant His Troops Right to Cross Border.

(Associated Press)

Mexico City, Feb. 13.—Gen. Carranza today issued a manifesto to the nation declaring that under no circumstances would the Mexican government grant the right to the United States to violate Mexican territory by a pursuit of Villa without the government's consent and without a reciprocal privilege first being obtained and admitted. He has instructed his agent at Washington to make representation to that effect.

Hints At War.

In his manifesto Carranza says: "I am sure I interpret the national sentiment in this decision and that the Mexican people will comply in a dignified manner with their duty, be the sacrifice what it may, to sustain our rights and sovereignty. If unfortunately this drags us into a war which the United States can never justify. We will not be responsible for its disastrous consequences. The North American press has excited their people against Mexico and the members of the American congress have advised intervention."

El Paso, Tex., Mar. 13.—Carranza forces and not those of the bandit leader Villa will be the first to oppose the invasion of Mexico by the United States, according to secret service information which was brought to the American side of the Rio Grande. During the day it became known at the military headquarters at Camp Cotton on the river bank and at Fort Bliss that the grumbling of the Carranza garrison of Juarez over the promised coming of the "gringos" was approaching open mutiny. Carranza officers who made attempts to silence anti-American outbreaks heard themselves called traitors by their own men.

El Paso, Tex., Mar. 13.—Three developments have brought the border situation to a crucial point and revived the fear of a general Mexican uprising that followed the Columbus raid last week. They are:

First—Continued raids and outrages by Villa and his bandits, both in the Casas Grandes country and east in the Torreón district, have shown the United States military authorities that the Carranza government either will not or cannot check the activities of the bandits.

VILLA'S LATEST DEED IMPERILS COLONISTS

Bandit Tears Up Railroad Tracks Cutting Off Relief.

El Paso, Mar. 13.—Villa made his hiding place known for the first time since the fires of looted Columbus lighted his escape into the Mexican hills south of the town.

With 3,000 men at his back, the bandit chief tore up the track of the Northwestern of Mexico railroad at Corralitos and swept on toward the Mormon settlements in the San Miguel valley.

This bold stroke has cut off from escape into the United States 500 Mormons who had planned to make their way to safety across the border.

Unless the American troops strike in quickly it is believed these settlers are doomed. The ruthless raider has announced that he will put to death every man, woman and child in the settlements.

BULLETINS!

(Associated Press)

EMBARGO ON ARMS.

Washington, Feb. 13.—Wilson and Lansing conferred this afternoon and concluded to send an immediate reply to Carranza, accepting his suggestion for a reciprocal agreement. An embargo on the shipment of war munitions to Mexico has been ordered at San Francisco, Nogales and Los Angeles. No general embargo has been ordered. The Aveset left New York recently with half a million rounds of rifle ammunition for Carranza.

Later Lansing announced that the United States had reached an agreement with Carranza and had sent its note of acceptance and a supplementary statement explaining that the United States was not intervening in Mexico, but was acting to obviate the necessity of doing so, to the Carranza ambassador.

NO MOVEMENT TODAY

San Antonio, Feb. 13.—Funston announced positively that there would be no movement of troops across the border today.

PROMISES NEWS.

Washington, Feb. 13.—Secretary of War Baker said this morning that he had not heard that any American troops had crossed into Mexico, and he promised to make the news public as soon as it reached him. He added that the morning dispatches contained nothing of importance that could be given out.

CONCENTRATION BEGINS

Columbus, N. M., Feb. 13.—The actual concentration of troops for Mexico began here today.

GENERALS IN CONFERENCE

El Paso, Feb. 13.—General Gaviro, commanding the Carranza garrison at Juarez, came to El Paso this morning to hold a conference with General Pershing, commanding Ft. Bliss, who will be in command of the U. S. expeditionary forces in Mexico. The meeting will be held in the Mexican consulate.

Consul Garcia was the third party. Pershing and Gaviro said the meeting was satisfactory.

VILLA IS HEADING FOR HILLS

Bandit Leader Is Seen South of Casas Grandes.

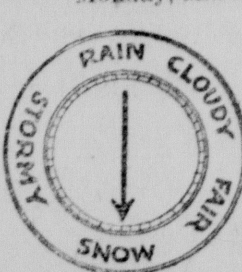

El Paso, Mar. 13.—General Villa left the Corralitos ranch for San Buen Ventura south of Casas Grandes, according to announcement in Juarez. This, it was said, had been wired from Carranza scouts in the vicinity of Casas Grandes.

It was feared that Villa would massacre the few Americans in that section but it is believed he is heading for the mountains southwest of Casas Grandes.

Dr. T. Alexander Cairns of New Jersey, one of the most entertaining talkers on the American platform, will deliver a speech in favor of a "dry" Dixon at Socialist hall Wednesday evening. No admission will be charged and everyone is invited to attend.

Head of De Facto Government in Mexico Who Hints at War With United States in Manifesto Today

WILL VOTE ON POLL TAX IN DIXON TOWN

PETITION PLACING QUESTION ON BALLOT FILED WITH TOWN CLERK PALMER.

VOTERS CAN ABOLISH THIS TAX

The voters of Dixon township will be given an opportunity to abolish the poll tax at the coming spring election, a petition asking that the question be placed on the ballot having been filed today with Town Clerk F. D. Palmer.

As was stated in the Telegraph several weeks ago, the last legislature re-enacted the law imposing a poll tax on all males except those over 60 years of age and cripples, unless the voters of each individual township, by a majority of the votes cast at the general township election, shall decide to abolish the operation of the law in that township.

A prior law, which exempted males residing within corporate limits of any city or village, but containing similar provisions otherwise, was declared unconstitutional in a case that was brought by the Town of Dixon against Seymour Ide, which was carried to the highest tribunal. The newly enacted law does not make any exemption for those residing within the limits of any corporation.

STATE INSPECTOR IS PLEASED WITH BRIDGE

OFFICIAL FROM UTILITIES COMMISSION INSPECTED PROBERTS CROSSING STRUCTURE

Engineer L. Fosgate from the office of the State Utilities Commission was in the city Saturday inspecting the overhead bridge built last fall at McRobert's crossing. The bridge was ordered in by the state commission a year ago this spring. Mr. Fosgate was well pleased with the structure. The heavy rains of a few weeks ago washed the fill on the approach from the north badly and this will be repaired this spring. There will likely be more or less trouble from washings until the loose dirt gets firmly packed and vegetation starts growing on the sides. The highway commissioners expect to seed down the embankments this spring in order to get grass growing.

WAHL NAMED QUARTER MASTER

Commander of Morrison Company To Succeed Late Capt. Angle

Col. Charles Davis, commanding the Sixth Reg. I. N. G., has appointed Capt. J. F. Wahl of Co. I. Morrison, Quarter Master of the Sixth regiment to succeed the late Capt. H. J. Angle of this city. Capt. Wahl will at once resign his command in Morrison, and an election to choose his successor will be called.

GERMAN LOSSES AT FORT VAUX SET NEW RECORD FOR BIG WAR

FRENCH OFFICERS SAY SLAUGHTER FRIDAY AND SATURDAY WAS AWFUL.

ARTILLERY FIGHTING CONTINUES

Heavy Cannonading Kept Up All Day Sunday—No Infantry Engagements.

(Associated Press)

There was no infantry fighting in the Verdun region Sunday but artillery engagements continued on much of the front, Paris says.

Had Record Losses.

Returning officers said that the German losses around Fort Vaux Friday and Saturday surpassed all previous records of this war.

5,000 British Fell.

Constantinople says that 5,000 British fell in the battle of Felahle, Mesopotamia, March 8.

WOLF HUNT SUNDAY WITHOUT CASUALTIES

HAHNEMANN PESTS ESCAPED PUNISHMENT PLANNED BY HUNTERS

A formidable troop of armed belgians invaded the territory about Hahnemann Sunday and spent the day scouring the country in search of wolves. The drive was carried on with much vigor and spirit but was productive of almost nothing of military value. No casualties were reported on either side, although one wolf was kept busy for a minutes dodging bullets from an outpost.

The invading force was from Dixon and was mobilized at the Chicago & Northwestern depot Sunday morning. It looked as though Mr. Wilson had ordered out the militia when the army came straggling in at night however, it did not look quite so bold and dangerous.

We say there were no casualties, and in saying that we mean that the ranks of the wolf pack remained intact. Great losses were reported among tin cans and all empty bottles captured along the road were destroyed ruthlessly. No quarter was given.

The Dixonites were armed to the teeth. Joe Miller carried a 12-inch cannon and John Ford formed the artillery section of the force with his 42 centimeter howitzer. Various and many the varieties of rain-makers and shootin' irons. If a wolf had gotten within range of the firing line there would not have been enough left of him to claim a bounty on. One gentleman, a native of that vicinity, appeared with an old musket that had been loaded for over 7 years. He allowed it would go alright, if anybody had the nerve to shoot it.

Early in the morning several wolves were seen near the station at Hahnemann. Two boys saw three wolves only, an hour before the hunters arrived. These wolves were evidently "scouts" sent out to watch for the arrival of the hunters. We have no doubt that when they saw that mob of savages pour out of the smoking car, waving their guns in the air and literally thirsting for wolf blood, that they cut across lots in their haste to get back and report and that every wolf in that section of the country immediately jumped his board bill and lit out, taking his family with him and headed for a helathier country.

BUTCHERS MURDERED

(Associated Press)

Chicago, Feb. 13.—William Bindrim, aged 60, and his son, aged 34, were found in their meat market with evidence of having been murdered with a cleaver. Robbers are suspected.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Kesselring of Franklin Grove were among Saturday's shoppers.

Lyman Sanford and daughter were here from Franklin Grove Saturday.

Sugar Grove Reception

The new members of the Sugar Grove community, of whom there are a few less than a dozen families, were the honored guests at a reception given Friday evening in the Sugar Grove church. The reception committee was composed of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Swartz, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Cleary, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Kester, Mr. and Mrs. John Shafer, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beede. During the evening the entertainment committee, consisting of Misses Eva and Iva Mensch and Beth Williams, Mrs. Roy Buhler, Messrs. Keith Swartz and Russell May, kept some form of entertainment continually in progress. There were clever guessing games to be answered by the names of the neighborhood people so that the newcomers became thoroughly familiar with them. Light refreshments were served to 108 guests.

Sewing Bee

Mrs. S. B. Nettz entertained Thursday at her home at Pennsylvania Corners with a sewing party for charitable work, the work having been donated for five little children. About 35 ladies were present and enjoyed an excellent scramble dinner at noon. Mrs. Nettz passed candy, apples, and oranges, during the afternoon.

Beautifying Farm Home

"Ways of Beautifying the Farm Home," will be the subject of a lecture to be given at St. Mary's hall, Walton Thursday evening, March 16th, by Prof. Burrows of the University of Illinois. The lecture is to be given under the auspices of the Walton Domestic Science club. Stereopticon views will illustrate the lecture which will treat of inside decorations, as well as the arrangements of trees and shrubbery, etc. A debate and several musical numbers will be other interesting features on the program which will open at 8 o'clock.

The subject of the debate is: "Resolved that Woman Suffrage is Desirable in the United States." The affirmative will be taken by Mrs. Carl Ackert and Miss Nellie Cahill of Walton; Edward J. O'Malley of Walton, and Vincent C. Griffith of LaSalle will take the negative.

St. Patrick's Luncheon

A most unique and delightful affair was the St. Patrick's luncheon given by Mrs. Emma Grant to the members of the Snadini club Friday. The house decorations were in red and green with Killarney roses and ferns decorating the table. The place cards were St. Patrick souvenir cards with quaint sayings relating to the day, which were read aloud, each adding some bit of information regarding St. Patrick. Green silk sham rocks were the favors. Following the luncheon, the regular business was dispensed with, the hostess taking the guests to the family matinee.

Danced the Minuet

Sarah Elizabeth Riet and Harold Goodwin danced most beautifully the old fashioned minuet. Coming then the Rye, at the children's party at the Elks' club house Friday evening. It was the first time that it had ever been danced to music by them. Little Miss Sarah Elizabeth was dressed in pink silk and Miss Harriet in blue silk. The tiny tots were all very attractively costumed, making the floor look like a flower garden of children.

MOTHERS

Should see that the whole family take at least three or four doses of a thoro, purifying, system cleaning medicine this spring. Now is the time. The family will be healthier, happier and get along better if the blood is given a thoro purifying, the stomach and bowels cleaned out, and the germs of winter, accumulated in the system driven away. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea is the very best and surest Spring Remedy to take. Get it at once and see the difference in the whole family. Their color will be better, they'll feel fine and be well and happy. 35c. The best Spring tonic-laxative, purifier—Rowland Bros.

HESS MILLINERY

Guest of Sisters
Mrs. H. J. Mosher of Deer Grove was the guest of her sisters, Mrs. R. R. Hess and Mrs. McGrath Saturday.

For Bridal Couple

Mrs. C. F. Woodburn entertained a dinner Sunday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stevens, nee Lucille Jennings, who were wed Saturday. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Webster and Miss Zetta Webster of Dixon and Lawrence Jennings of Ashton.

For Birthday

Master Edward Anderson entertained 15 boys at his home, 810 E. Chamberlain, in honor of his 8th birthday. The birthday luncheon was served by Misses Helen Daniels, Gladys Anderson, Ruth Whipple and Hope Prophetor.

18th Birthday

The 18th birthday of Miss Dora Miller, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Miller, furnished the occasion for a delightful surprise given by 48 young people of the neighborhood. A delightful evening was spent in music, with numbers by Misses Alice Lindeman and Mary Walker, Mrs. Garfield Topper and Mr. Wolftrap. Refreshments were served during the evening, a birthday cake with a quota of candles holding the place of honor on the table. Miss Miller received many handsome gifts.

Birthday Dinner

The 8th birthday of Mrs. Rachel Webster of Ashton, one of the oldest residents of Lee county, was made the occasion of a pleasant family dinner served by her daughter, Mrs. John Trastle, at her home in Ashton Saturday evening. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Webster and daughter Zetta of Dixon. Webster formerly lived in Dixon. A fall last winter, producing a cold, Mrs. Webster, who is otherwise in fairly good health.

80th Birthday

John Origiesen Sr., the oldest and most prosperous of Nelson's residents, is celebrating his 80th birthday today. Mr. Origiesen is hale and hearty, enjoying the best of health and bids fair to enjoy 20 more birthdays, at least. Many old friends are showering congratulations upon him today.

Strong College Reclat

The Juniors of the Strong College of Music gave a very delightful musical Saturday evening in the college hall, the numbers in the main of the classical type. Piano duets were given by A. Gehant, and Miss Stella Gehant, Misses Gladys Kenage and Marcel Gaffney. Misses Isabel Frey, Enid Wicher, and Gladys Kenage gave piano solos; violin solos were given by Misses Alice Coppins, Helen Ploin and Beatrice Ruggles and Clinton Ives, and a cello solo by John Ives. The Ives trio—Miss Josephine Ives and her brothers, John and Clinton, piano, cello, and violin—also gave a selection. The program was a very exceptional one and gave great pleasure to the large audience of parents and friends.

St. Patrick's Dance

The regular Moose dance Thursday evening will take the nature of a St. Patrick's party, and it is planned to make it one of the most enjoyable of the season's weekly parties. Shamrocks will be distributed to the dancers, the decorations will be in keeping with the affair and clever costumes will add to the attractiveness of the occasion. Thomas Flynn will impersonate St. Patrick and Miss Anna Fagen will be attired as a typical colleen.

Stevens-Jennings Wedding

A beautiful home wedding was solemnized in Ashton Saturday noon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Stevens, when their daughter, Lucille, became the bride of Harold Stevens of Prophetstown. The ceremony was performed by F. A. Graham of the Ashton first church in the presence of 30 relatives and friends. The decorations were in pink and white. "A Perfect Day," sung by Stanley Jennings, a nephew of the bride preliminary to the ceremony. Miss Mary Hintz of Dixon, a friend of the bride, played Mendelssohn's wedding march and during the ceremony soft strains of other marital music.

The attendants were: Miss Louise Smith of Dixon, bridesmaid; Raymond Stevens, the groom's brother best man; Stanley Jennings, of Ashton ring bearer. The ring was carried in the heart of a beautiful rose. The bride's gown was a navy blue taffeta.

A luncheon, served in three courses by Misses Mary Hintz and Louise Smith and Mrs. Ray Jennings, followed the congratulations and the inspection of the many useful and beautiful wedding gifts received by the

SUGGESTIONS TO SICK WOMEN

How Many Are Restored To Health.

First.—Almost every operation in our hospitals performed upon women becomes necessary through neglect of such symptoms as backache, irregular and painful periods, displacements, pain in the side, burning sensation in the stomach, bearing down pains, nervousness, dizziness and sleeplessness.

Second.—The medicine most successful in relieving female ills is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It regulates and strengthens the organism; it overcomes disease.

For forty years it has been making women strong and well, relieving backache, nervousness, ulceration and inflammation, weakness, displacements, irregularity and periodic pains. It has also proved invaluable in preparing for childbirth and the Change of Life.

Third.—The great number of unsolicited testimonials on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., many of which are from time to time published by permission, are proof of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, in the treatment of female ills.

Fourth.—Every ailing woman in the United States is cordially invited to write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass., for special advice. It is free, will bring you health and may save your life.

The bride and groom are spending a few days with friends in the vicinity of Dixon before leaving for a trip, supposedly in the west, though the ultimate destination is being kept a close secret.

Mr. Stevens is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Stevens of Prophetstown and is an industrious farmer of excellent habits. He has a farm home near Prophetstown prepared for his bride, who is a very sweet young woman, highly esteemed by a large acquaintance, and a loyal worker in the Ashton Methodist church.

Guests at the wedding from out of town included: Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Webster, Miss Zetta Webster, Mrs. C. F. Woodburn, Misses Ona, Jennie and Lucy Woodburn of Dixon; Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Stevens; Raymond Ralph and Miss Florence Stevens of Prophetstown.

From Franklin

Miss Alice Lehman entertained Misses Lola Buck and Stella Lehman of Franklin Grove over Sunday.

In Sterling

Misses Goldie and Avis Beatty and Messrs. Fred Smith and H. Rossiter motored to Sterling Sunday and spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shaller.

Successful Supper

The Candlelighters of the Presbyterian church served supper to some 200 people Saturday evening and added about $65 to their treasury. The tables were prettily arranged, yellow jonquils and other spring flowers furnishing the decoration. And everyone says that the good things to eat were just what they should be.

THE LINCOLN MONUMENT SHOULD BE STRIKING.

Since we are to have a monument of some character marking the site of the old block-house on the north side of the river near the bridge, where Lincoln was mustered into the United States army service and where many other personages of historic renown have been, it is Dixon's duty to take care that the full possibilities and also the full responsibility of the undertaking are realized, for there is no spot on the whole length of the thousands of miles of Lincoln Highway that stretch across this nation that is more intimately associated with the great Lincoln than is this spot in Dixon where the old log fort stood, and where the headquarters of the army were located during the Black Hawk war. Lincoln was mustered into the U. S. service at least twice at Dixon, in this old log fort.

If Dixon wishes to do so, it will be possible to build a monument on this site, beside the Lincoln Highway and overlooking Rock river in a most conspicuous location, that will be one of the chief points of interest on the entire Lincoln Highway. The ground has been given by the city. It is public property along the river bank and can never be marred by the close approach of buildings, as it is protected by the street and river.

The great connection that this spot has with historic events of national character and interest make the spot one of untold value to this community, if we take proper advantage of it. If the place is marked in a manner that is sufficiently striking and imposing, this spot will attract thousands and thousands of tourists yearly. If proper attention is not given to the selection of an appropriate monument, the attraction of the spot will be greatly diminished.

It need not be a matter of great expenditure of money. The marking of a spot so important in the history of the life of our great Lincoln does not necessarily call for lavish expenditure. This would hardly be in keeping with the history of that life or the nature of the man. But the designing of the marker or monument should be left in the hands of artists or architects of note, for the project is of great importance, not only to Dixon alone, but to the entire Lincoln Highway and the nation as well.

If a great monument of Lincoln were to be erected, there is no doubt but that financial assistance could be secured from many quarters outside this community.

Many men of importance in the nation's history were stationed at the old block-house at the same time. Jefferson Davis, later to become president of the Confederate States of America in opposition to the Union, and President Lincoln, was a lieutenant in this command. Sumner, later the hero of Ft. Sumpter; Col. Zachary Taylor, another future president of the United States, was there at the same time. Many national figures were present men who at that time were much more important than the humble Lincoln, who volunteered for duty as a private in the fight against the Indians.

Daddy Bedtime

Story

How Mother Nature
Clothes Trees of
The Northlands.Mother Nature Looked Over Her Trees.

WHEN Mother Nature took her task of clothing the trees with green things, daddy had time to get trees that lands. She soon learned from what valleys do, that which will die in ice and that winds. Along with her wish to make the km and man she also wanted to put heat. "Aren't all trees beautiful, daddy?" "Yes, but Mother Nature felt the just right, so that they would be just what you always try to make of trees. The children looked at one another that neither of them had ever seen apart of harmony.

"For hot lands like Italy and Africa Mother Nature remembers that sunshine and not much water will destroy trees with juicy leaves. So she makes tough, fibery kinds of greenery that will live in spite of drought. Some of these tropical leaves she builds like little umbrellas to protect roots from broiling sunshine, except in the swamps. Here she lavishes pulpy, rich, juicy green things that love both heat and moisture.

"It is great fun to watch the Alps in Switzerland, where the trees try to climb the mountain sides, staggering up the heights to 'tree line,' which means the last inch that Mother Nature will let them grow on the rocky, bleak mountain tops all torn with winds and ice. The hemlocks and stunted pines look like a ragged army of men trying to capture the mountain top. But Mother Nature kills them when they go one foot beyond where she intended them to live. Being a great artist, Mother Nature looked over her trees in the north and said: 'Good! These pointed tops and close limbs are fine for meeting wind blasts and carrying weights of snow. But when I look at their rugged lines along my mountain tops they seem too severe. Even the poplars and birches and willows which I put among them do not soften their outlines. What shall I do to beautify them?'

"Then along came the moss fairy. 'Dear Mother Nature,' she said, 'you have been good to me. You have made my way in life easy, and now I will repay your kindness by spreading my softest, gray-green mosses over all the harsh limbs of all your ranks of pointed trees along all your mountain tops.' And this is why tree trunks all blend into green things so beautifully," daddy ended.

BLOW TORCH EXPLODES
INJURING A WORKMANARCHIBALD ROWLES PAINFULLY
BURNED AT FERGUSON HARD-WARE STORE THIS A. M.

At about 11:30 o'clock this morning while soldering a leak around a faucet of a sixty-gallon gasoline tank in the tin shop in the basement of the E. J. Ferguson hardware store Archibald Rowles sustained a serious burn on the side of the face and neck and his hair was singed by the gas in the tank exploding and igniting the stem off the blow torch used to heat the soldering iron. Gasoline in the tank of the blow torch escaped on the floor and this caught fire. Other workmen got the chemical fire extinguishers and the fire was extinguished before the fire department arrived.

The tank had been taken to the shop for repairs and was empty, but it is thought it held some vapor and as soon as the hot soldering iron was applied around the faucet the vapor exploded. The tank was blown to pieces.

Dramatic Notes

PRINCESS THEATRE

Tonight the Princess theatre will show an excellent Mutual Master picture de luxe entitled "The Strife Eternal" with Blanche Forsythe and an all star cast of celebrated players in the leading roles. This feature is one of the most spectacular ever seen in motion pictures with mob scenes of over three thousand people together with horses and animals, great stage settings and wonderful scenic effects are shown throughout the film and it is certain to be a treat to motion picture fans. On Tuesday night a Mutual Master picture entitled "The Knotted Cord" with Bert Delaney in the leading role will be shown together with "Mr. Bunny's Commeter" a novelty comedy, and "Spider Barlow Meets Competition," a Vogue comedy.

FAMILY THEATRE

Another winning show opened at the Family last night and showed to two packed houses. A well balanced bill consisting of four acts and feature photo plays brought smiles and applause from every person in the theatre.

Reckless Recklaw & Co. with their comedy cycle and skating act, opened the show and drew considerable applause. Stein & Hume, harmony and comedy, went very big and it was necessary for them to take several encores. Sam Nainoa with his Hawaiian instruments was a riot and stopped the show for fully ten minutes. The closing act, June Dixon and Exposition Models, artistic posing and dancing act with their own special scenery and electrical effects, was the prettiest act seen on the stage for a long time.

The picture for tonight is "Rosemary for Remembrance," featuring Marguerite Snow and Grace Ellison.

OPERA HOUSE

Cal Stewart—The event of the season will be the appearance at Dixon Opera House on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, March 17, 18 and 19 of Cal Stewart, the best liked and best known rural comedian of the country. A man whose name is a household word. A man of whom the phonograph people have sold more of his records than any one person, living or dead. A man who has entertained and been entertained in every large city in the world, who has been the guest of King Edward of England, Emperor William of Germany, Emperor Franz Joseph of Austria, Pope Leo 13th the Czar and Czarina of Russia, the Khedive of Egypt, the Shaah of Persia, at Teheran, the Prince of Siam at Bangkok, Siam, also specially appeared before the Empress Tse Ann in the Imperial Seventh Garden at Peking, China, and before the Grandees at Delhi, Calcutta and Rangoon. Manager Snyder has secured Cal Stewart & Co., at a very large expense and is one of the best entertainments to appear at his house this season.

OPERA SELECTIONS ON PROGRAM

Kellogg-Haines Co. Will Entertain At Opera House Tonight

The program to be rendered by the Kellogg-Haines Singing Party at the opera house this evening will be made up of selections from a number of the well known operas. A few of the selections will be from "The Bohemian Girls," "The Chinese Honey Moon," "Singing Master," "Dolly Varden," "Il Trovatore," "Penelope," "Songs of the Sixties" and "Lovely Galatea." Beautiful and elaborate costumes are carried for each of the productions and they will be worn tonight. In addition to the mixed quartet, three members of the company company comprise a male trio.

Elmer Cline was here from Franklin Grove Saturday.

SIGNING CONTRACT FOR HIGHEST SALARY EVER PAID TO ANYONE EXCEPT A KING OR EMPEROR

John R. Frueler, Who Will Pay the Salary, and Sidney Chaplin, Manager.

Charley Chaplin, the movie comedian, has just signed a new contract, and thereby saved the motion picture magnates from nervous prostration. They have been negotiating with him for several weeks, and now John R. Frueler, president of the Mutual Film Corporation, has caught the big fish for:

$4.46 a minute, or $268.00 an hour, or

$2,147.00 a day, or $22,884.00 a week, or $670,000.00 a year.

No person in the world other than a king or an emperor—unless Charles M. Schwab as president of the United States Steel Corporation was an exception—has ever received half that salary.

Charley Chaplin is twenty-six years of age.

BORDER MUST BE FIRMLY GUARDED

ties of the "scurage of the border."

Second—Refusal of General Gabriel Gaviro, in command of the Carranza forces at Juarez, to send troops to Casas Grandes, where 500 Mormons are cut off from all aid and threatened with death at the hands of the retreating Villa bands, and reports from Americans aboard a train arriving in Juarez of insults from Carranza officers, have given General Pershing and the military leaders at Fort Bliss grave apprehension that Carranza will, after all, unite with Villa against the Americans in case of an invasion by American troops.

Third—The report that American troops were to move from Fort Bliss through Juarez as one of three columns of a punitive expedition to get Villa, has brought evident unrest in the Mexican colony of 30,000 in El Paso, and a general uprising is feared simultaneously with the crossing of the first American troops over the international bridge.

Pershing Lines Up Scouts. El Paso, Mar. 13.—General J. J. Pershing spent the afternoon in conference with a number of cowboys who have worked on the various big ranches in Northern Mexico. Bishop Hurst, representing the Mormon colonists in Northern Mexico, also admits that he is gathering a number of young Mormons, familiar with northern Mexico, for use as scouts for the United States.

This, and the packing of the Sixth and Sixteenth infantry regiments in Camp Cotton, in the southern part of El Paso, were the only indications of preparations for an invasion of Mexico.

In El Paso all the railroads are busy "spotting" cars for the American troops. Practically all wholesale grocery houses were kept busy supplying provisions to the quartermasters of the government. There was a general switching of troops guarding El Paso.

Border Must First Be Secure. Mayor Lea was in consultation with General Pershing and also had wire communication with Washington relative to the protection of El Paso. The mayor was assured that El Paso would not be left without ample protection which leads to the belief that no expedition into Mexico will be attempted until all troops now reported moving in this direction from interior United States points have reached the border. It is also generally admitted that even without considering the necessity for border protection the forces now on the border are not of sufficient strength to warrant the United States expedition in crossing the line at once. There is also a belief, which not only maintains in civilian circles but extends to military circles that the United States is in no hurry to rush an expedition into Mexico until the attitude of Carranza and his chiefs and men is more thoroughly understood by the United States.

Takes Time to Invade Mexico. An officer talking of the situation said: "The United States is not ready to go in yet. It takes time to get provisions, transportation and other things ready. The troops here on the border could have marched into Mexico on three hours' notice without much inconvenience, but railroad equipment had to be secured and a means of taking baggage and commissaries had to be secured. The army, though it has been on duty on the border for five years, is not supplied with the proper equipment for a campaign. The troops are supplied with everything for border guard duty, but not for an expedition, and it may require days to get everything ready."

TWO TO WATERTOWN

Sheriff R. R. Phillips left this afternoon for Watertown with Minnie Cooney and Emily P. Parker who have been inmates at the county home for some time and whose mental condition was such that it was decided by a commission of doctors Saturday that they should be taken to the state hospital for treatment.

Cities' Garbage Rich In Good Fertilizers Says Department

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13.—A survey of the nation's resources in fertilizer materials has drawn attention to the large supply of these to be found in the accumulation of garbage in cities. This waste material contains nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash, which are recognized as essential to the production of large crops. Valuable as these elements are to farms of the country, the garbage in which they are found is a source of trouble and expense to the cities, it seems therefore, that this garbage can be disposed of most advantageously by returning it to the soil in the form of fertilizer.

In cities of 100,000 people or more the reduction of garbage by methods which furnish a residue fit for fertilizer use has proved to be a profitable municipal enterprise, and in smaller communities it might well be self-sustaining. Numerous analyses of raw garbage show that, on the average, grease constitutes 3.5 per cent; and of the fertilizer ingredients potash, 0.3 per cent; bone phosphate, 1 per cent, and nitrogen in the form of ammonia, 1 per cent. On this basis the value of a ton of raw garbage is about $5, the grease being worth $3 and the fertilizer ingredients about $2.

Since the grease is of more value than the fertilizer, the reduction process is primarily designed to recover the grease. There are three principal methods of doing this. The garbage is cooked and steamed and then pressed dry and degreased in gasoline. Or, the garbage is dried directly in rotary hot air kilns and then degreased in one operation.

As raw garbage contains 70 per cent water and 3.5 per cent grease, the yield of the tankage residue or fertilized should be about 20 per cent. Thus, 4 tons of raw garbage should be made to yield 1 ton of dried tankage and $12 worth of grease. In the retail market the dried tankage sells for about $10 a ton and at wholesale for $7.50. There has been no great fluctuation in these prices for some time. In actual practice, however, the percentage of tankage obtained is not usually 25 per cent.

At present, however, only six cities in the U. S. operate their own reduction plants, and about 20 send their garbage to privately owned plants. These produce in the course of a year 160,000 tons of tankage, or fertilizer, made from 1,045,000 tons of raw garbage. If all of the 199 cities in the United States which have a population of 30,000 or over should adopt this method of garbage disposal, the total yield should be from 637,500 to 937,500 tons of fertilizer per year. This would be worth from $4,780,000 to $7,060,000. Additional fertilizer material could also be obtained in the cities from dead animals, stable manure and street sweepings.

This subject, specialists in the U. S. Department of Agriculture believe, merits careful consideration, because it will be of advantage both to the American farmer and to the cities from which he obtains the fertilizer.

Get This Family-Car For Your Out-Door Home

THERE is as much difference between cars as between houses.

One extreme is the monster of masonry where wealth barricades itself at a cost all out of proportion to the home comforts obtained. Even more common is the other extreme, the cramped quarters that are no more than walls and roof, thrown together as cheaply as possible.

Between these two extremes are the homes of the happy and contented; substantial, roomy and refined. The Auburn car is the out-door home of this type; adequate to all needs, roomy, comfortable and refined.

Here is the ideal family car, the happy medium between the superfluous monsters of exorbitant cost and the cramped and skimpy cars that are built to meet a price only. The Auburn gives you dignity, convenience and pride of ownership, without the extravagant car's first cost but with the cheap car's low maintenance cost.

For the new Auburn cars for 1916 offer truly wonderful values. Value first, because the Auburn is not an "experiment." Every constructional feature is absolutely successful and reliable. Value, because it is thoroughly modern and complete in every essential, from its basic strength and safety to the most minute detail.

In looks the Auburn never suffers in comparison with even the finest creations imported from Europe. And as for the quiet, graceful and never faltering way it performs, only a ride can fully convince you of its marvelous efficiency, ease of control and comfort—no jerks, jolts, bounces or nerve-racking sensations that tire the passengers and make "work" of motoring.

Our claim, "The Most For The Money," is an unequivocal one—would you let us prove it to you? We are positive we can save you money and give you a car that will wear longer, give better service and more pleasure. You can get all the facts (we believe they will surprise you) and study them in the privacy of your own home—simply write us for a free copy of our new book entitled "More Than A Catalog." We'll send it to you without the slightest obligation.

A TALE of RED ROSES

By
GEORGE RANDOLPH CHESTER

Copyright, 1914, by the Bobbs-Merrill Co.

SYNOPSIS

Sledge, a typical politician, becomes infatuated with Molly Marley, daughter of a street car company president. He sends her red roses.

CHAPTER II.

Molly Invites an Additional Guest.

HERE are the red roses, Molly?" asked Bert Glider as he walked into the reception parlor of Marley's pretentious big house that night. "I don't know," replied Molly, much concerned. "Did you send some?" "No, but I thought some were to be sent to you," laughed Bert. "It's too good to keep, Fern. By the way, that Fern just slipped, and you'll have to pardon me for it. It's Molly's fault. She never called you anything else."

"Who is it?" demanded Molly, more eager to hear the news than he liked to see. "The information is highly important, if true, and I must not be kept in suspense."

"Hold on to something, then," he warned her. "One, two, three—Sledge!" "Sledge?" she repeated. "What? That great big?" She paused for lack of words, and her face flamed suddenly scarlet with indignation.

"Sledge," he joyously insisted, and then, to the puzzled Fern, "You remember the big fellow whose car stopped just about us last night?"

Mr. Glider, who as a boy had been an expert in pulling the wings from flies, went straight on with the slaughter, seizing immediately the glorious opportunity which presented itself when Mr. Marley, brave in smoking jacket and pumps, sauntered into the parlor.

"Great news, Marley!" hailed Bert, beaming with delight upon the joyful laughter of Fern. "Molly has captured a new honor for the family. Whose do you suppose is the latest scamp at her belt?"

"It might be almost anybody," returned Marley, who felt that his mother's daughter's popularity reflected some glow on himself. "Who is the particular scamp you have in mind?" and he laughed in advance.

"Sledge," exploded Bert. "By the way, Marley, he gave you a hint of it too. Didn't he ask you today while I was there for an invitation to Molly's party tomorrow night or something like that?"

"Well, not exactly, but he did throw out some pretty strong hints," acknowledged Marley with a grin, entering into the joyous spirit of the occasion. "He asked permission to call on Molly. I told him that was up to her."

"How unusually considerate!" observed Molly, biting her lips to suppress the rising fury which had driven the blushes from her cheeks and left them almost waxen.

The Marley butler, a thin faced and thin legged young man with a painfully intellectual countenance, stalked past the hallway portieres in answer to a below stairs ring and returned from the front door with:

"Mr. Sledge, sir, to see Mr. Marley."

"Show him into the library," hastily directed Marley, suddenly contrite and feeling a sinking horror, as did all the others in the room, of having this man face to face with Molly, especially after the crimes against her, of which they had themselves been guilty.

The instructions were too late, however.

"Good evening," rumbled the deep voice of Sledge, who just then appeared directly in the center of the opening in the portieres. He wore an Inverness topcoat, the open front of which disclosed a marvelous expanse of white shirt front, spaced with diamond studs, the glitter of which paled, however, by contrast with the enormous solitaire which illuminated the solid gold watch he presented to him by the Young Men's Marching club of Ward G. His hair was pressed as smoothly to his skull as an earnest Italian barber could plaster it, and various angry specks on his cheeks told how microscopically he had been shaved.

The crowning triumphs of his toilet, however, he carried. In his right hand he bore, held by a wide velvet ribbon, in the same huge fingers which clutched the gold headed cane presented by the Capital City Sledge club, a thirty dollar box of candy, two feet across, wrapped with six lustrous layers of fancy paper and provided with an absolute maze of drawers and partitions. In his left hand he carried a speckless silk hat of the latest French shape, and that arm encircled a conical parcel, so big that it would have staggered a small man, while from the upper end of the cone protruded a square yard of screaming red roses.

"Good evening, Miss Molly," he added, becoming more specific. "I brought these for you myself," and he beamed his cordial good will upon the entire assemblage.

It was in this breathless crisis that Molly Marley, aggravated beyond endurance, took her merciless revenge.

"How perfectly delightful!" she cried, and she swept toward him with more eager cordiality than she had ever bestowed upon Bert Glider himself.

"We've just been talking about you," and then, to the intense consternation of her father and her foremost suitor, she added: "I want you at my party tomorrow night. Won't you come, please?"

The next day Smash, Molly's pet, like the way of many good dogs, fell into the hands of the official dog catcher and was taken off to the pound. Molly was in a pitiable state. She appealed to her father. He testily said that he was busy. In her desperation and hardly knowing why she did it, she telephoned to Sledge. One of Sledge's men said that he was very busy. But when he heard it was Molly he jumped into an automobile, accompanied Molly to the pound and took Smash. On the way home Sledge talked of his dog Bob, and Molly shivered when he said he'd like to match Bob against Smash. As if noticing her displeasure, he changed the subject to Molly's party, and for the hundredth time Molly was sorry she invited him.

A yelp on the front porch announced the arrival of Ben Sledge, and he appeared in the brilliantly lighted hall, holding a tightly stretched chain, to the other end of which was attached a one eyed, stub eared, battle scarred bull terrier, which took such a violent dislike to the intellectual faced Marley butler that Sledge was compelled to hold him clear of the floor with one brawny hand and spank him loudly in the ribs with the other, whereupon Bob gave a single yelping promise to be good, and Sledge let him down.

"This is Bob, Miss Molly," introduced Sledge. "I'm sending him right back with Mike, but you said you'd like to see him."

"Delighted to meet you, Bob," laughed Molly, stooping down and patting him on the seamy head.

Bob deliberately batted his good eye with all the effect of a wink and wagged his absurd stump of a tail by way of friendly greeting, then he suddenly made a huge of about four feet and strained, choking, at the end of his chain, on his hind feet, with his tongue hanging out. From the rear of the lot he had heard the bark of the suspicious Smash.

"I brought these for you myself."

"Where's Mike?" demanded Molly hastily and in some fear.

Bert Glider and five of the eight couples whom Molly had invited had already arrived and were now, of course, thronged eagerly in the doorway.

"What's your hurry, Molly?" snickered loose jointed Dicky Reynolds. "Hold your caller till I run out and get Smash. He knows me."

"Don't you dare!" shrieked Molly, distrusting him with good reason.

Bob loosened his throat enough to answer the challenge from the kennel, and there wasn't a girl left in the doorway except Jessie Peters, who clung to Dicky's sleeve.

"I'll go with you, Dicky," offered circular little Willie Walters, with an echo of Dicky's snicker.

"If you do hell bark at you," hotly retorted Molly, knowing Willie's cautious propensities.

The rest of the boys were for keeping up the good work, but Sledge cut short the incipient hysteria by picking up Bob by the neck, returning to the door and booming into the night the silent, potent syllable:

"Mike!"

A squatty man, who looked so much like Bob, even to a patched eye, that they could have been taken for twins, emerged from the darkness, hugged Bob to his bosom like a brother and hurried away.

Fern and Molly looked at each other with dismay. If this was the start of the evening what else might they expect!

"Why didn't Mike take them both away?" whispered Fern. "You poor girl!"

"I'm not!" denied Molly fiercely. "I said this morning that I'd like to see Bob, and, of course, Mr. Sledge brought him. The only trouble is he's so quick."

"He's instantaneous," corrected Fern. "You have to admire it," laughed Molly. "Well, the only thing I can do is to be as game as he is." And upon Sledge's return from some careful directions to an unseen companion of Mike's she introduced him to her friends with all the sprightliness of which she was capable.

In that process she firmly intended to make him the center of things and to see that he had a good time. He relieved her of that tremendous burden, however, for after moving through the introductions with a cordial ease which not only delighted but surprised her, until she was reminded that he had been introduced to more notables than she would probably ever see, he quietly disappeared into Marley's den and smoked fat cigars in calm comfort, with a stein of cool beer at his elbow, leaving the young people to enjoy their hilarity without the damper of his presence.

Molly, mindful of her duties as hostess, dropped in occasionally to see that he was satisfied, and each time she found him in exactly the same position, as placidly contented as he could possibly have been in the little back room of the Occident saloon. On one of her visits, after answering in the affirmative her inquiry if he was all right, he rose from his comfortable nest in the big leather chair.

"I suppose we eat," he guessed. "I think you'd call it bluff," she laughingly returned.

"I get you," he replied. "Mostly decorations. Souvenirs?"

"The usual," he replied. "Hand 'em these," and he thrust into her hands two bundles of small envelopes, red ones and white ones.

She looked at them blankly a moment.

"I get you," she smiled, flushing slightly as she wondered whether her adoption of his phrase was flattery or ridicule. "Red ones, in honor of the roses, are for girls, and the white ones for the boys. What are they?"

"Aw, nothing much," he diffidently replied as he resumed his seat. "Season tickets for grand opera week in the red ones and for the Athletic club fights in the white ones. Admit two. Is it all right?"

"Is it all right? It's glorious!" she assured him, with shining eyes. Delighted with this unmatchable novelty, Molly was herself placing the red and white envelopes at the covers in the dining room when Bert Glider found her there and closed the door.

"Molly, you're carrying this Sledge joke too far!" he hotly charged.

"Who elected you?" she quietly wanted to know and laid a white envelope at his place with extreme care, angling the corner of it just so.

"Both of us, I hope," he stated, displaying a warning signal by pulling at the top of his collar to give his throat more room. "Molly"—And he advanced toward her.

The symptoms were unmistakable. Molly, having rounded the end of the table, slipped out through the pantry door and handed her remaining envelopes to the intellectual looking butler.

"Place these on the table just as I have done. Alternate red and white ones," she kindly directed, and the next time Bert saw her she was the live center of the laughing taffy pulling. She had preferred to escape rather than to treat this matter either seriously or flippantly when she was annoyed with him.

At 11:30 Mr. Marley, with the worry of eight absent mothers on his own shoulders, was fretting over some invitation to send them home when the earth split open in the wide stretch of vacant land across the street and ejected into the sky, with a loud, unearthly noise, a tremendous assortment of fiery meteors, mostly red. Roman candles in reckless bunches shot up from behind every bush, skyrocketed dragged their spiraling tails through all the available circumference, while fancy bombs carried their aerial floaters and other brilliant pyrotechnical surprises into all the celestial territory hitherto unoccupied.

Through it all Sledge stood as immovable and as impassive as if he had been glued to the spot and frozen. Even when the display flowed out into the middle of the highway and piled up the street cars for two blocks in both directions he remained a calm and disinterested spectator. The president of the traction company was thrown into extreme agitation by this excess of zeal, for he had some consideration for the feelings of the public, and he rushed right out to restore the centered schedule.

"Here, what's this?" he demanded of a demon with a smoke blackened face. "Why are you holding up the cars?"

"Sledge's orders," replied the demon, lighting the fuse of a red rose set piece. "He said everything went, and it's going."

Mr. Marley came back. Sledge was no longer on the porch. Molly had slipped in to wrap up some cake for Baby Peters, and Sledge, who seemingly saw nothing, had followed her.

"Well, is your party a hit?" he anxiously inquired.

"It's a scream!" she said, unable to control her laughter. "Really, Mr. Sledge, I have you to thank for the most extravagantly joyous occasion at which I have ever had the good for-time to preside."

"We'll open her another notch next time," he confidently promised her. "Molly, marry me."

"Oh, it's impossible!" she blurted. "Really, I'm sorry, Mr. Sledge. I know it's my own fault, but I didn't mean it to go this far. I don't mean that—that is—well, I don't know what I mean. You've been so good, and I do appreciate it so, but it is impossible. I simply couldn't. Don't you see?"

"You'll come around to it," "I bet I don't!" she blazed. "What'll you bet—Smash against Bob?"

"Anything you like!" she angrily agreed, furious enough to poison him. "You're on," he said.

USE "CASCARETS" FOR LIVER AND BOWELS WHEN CONSTIPATED

When Bilious, headachy, sick, for sour stomach, bad breath, bad colds.

Get a 10-cent box.

Take a Cascaret tonight to cleanse your Liver, Stomach and Bowels, and you will surely feel great by morning. You men and women who have head ache, coated tongue, a bad cold, are bilious, nervous, upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel all worn out. Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passage every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil?

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the bowels.

Remember, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. A 10-cent box from your druggist means healthy bowel action; a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children.

Not a Bite of Breakfast Until You Drink Water

Says a glass of hot water and phosphate prevents illness and keeps us fit.

Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of combustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken day after day leaves in the alimentary canal a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not completely eliminated from the system each day, becomes food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels. From this mass of left-over waste, toxins and ptomaine-like poisons are formed and sucked into the blood.

Men and women who can't get feeling right must begin to take inside baths. Before eating breakfast each morning drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash out of the thirty feet of bowels the previous day's accumulation of poisons and toxins and to keep the entire alimentary canal clean, pure and fresh.

Those who are subject to sick headache, colds, biliousness, constipation, others who wake up with bad taste, foul breath, backache, rheumatic stiffness, or have a sour, gassy stomach after meals, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store, and begin practicing internal sanitation. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on the subject.

Remember inside bathing is more important than outside bathing, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing poor health, while the bowel pores do. Just as soap and hot water cleanses, sweetens and freshens the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

GERMANS CLAIM HUGE CAPTURES

Berlin Reports 26,472 Frenchmen Taken at Verdun.

LUCK MARKS WESTERN FRONT

French Experts Declare Kaiser Has Already Paid Price of 200,000 Men to Take Fortress—Paris Admits Loss of Small Trench—Battle Not Over.

London, Mar. 13.—The third lull in the great battle for Verdun, which is now entering its fourth week, has given opportunity for the Germans to take account of their booty, with the result that Berlin announced the capture of a total of 26,472 unwounded French soldiers and 430 officers.

The booty captured by the Germans in the great offensive includes 189 cannon, of which 41 were of large caliber and 232 machine guns.

French Lose "Small Trench."
The midnight communique from Paris reports continued terrific artillery action on both sides, but announces no change in the positions of the opposing armies. Berlin also admits heavy artillery action without infantry advances. The afternoon report from Paris admits the loss of "a small trench" south of Vaux, but declares the German attacks at all other points have failed.

Unofficial reports declare that though the Germans are again checked, the battle is not yet won by the defenders of Verdun, and renewed action is expected at any moment.

French Take Offensive.
Berlin admits that the French took the offensive west of the Meuse, but declares all attacks were repulsed with heavy losses.

Kaiser Already Paid 200,000.
Paris, Mar. 13.—"I am ready to sacrifice 200,000 men, but I will get Verdun," said the kaiser on February 20.

Every French expert points out that the kaiser lost fully this number of troops in the three weeks of fighting. Nobody believes that the battle is yet ended.

"The fighting will continue as bloody as ever during the coming week," says Lieutenant Colonel Rousset, the foremost French critic.

"The kaiser will continue to hurl his best troops against our iron wall, but unless an entirely unexpected change occurs, Verdun will remain inviolate," says Major Civrieux.

Long Battle Expected.
The battle is bound to continue for many long days," says Marcel Hustin.

"Germany must fight on to avoid a ghastly defeat," says the Journal critic.

All trace of nervousness has disappeared in Paris. The prospects of continuation of the battle is accepted with greater confidence than at any time during the last three weeks.

Turks' Names For Greeks.
The Turks have definite names for the Greeks who inhabit Ottoman territory and for those who are their own masters. The latter are Yunan and their country Yunanistan—names derived from "Ionia"—while the Greeks and Turks are Rum. By origin this is simply "Romans" and is an inheritance from the Byzantine days, when the inhabitants of Constantinople, the new Rome, were called Romaloi, while the provincials were known as Hellenoi. "Rum" was the conquering Turks' name for the Byzantine empire. It survives in Roumelia, while the popular Greek language of the present day is still known as Romainic. But every Greek, in Greece or in Turkey, calls himself a Hellenic—London Spectator.

A Mistake Somewhere.
A helpful friend recently requested us to write a funny piece about a game we used to play in boyhood's glad days called "hiding in the barn." He alleged that part of the gang hid and the rest searched for them, and when they were found all hands jumped and yelled most gleefully. This, he tried to remind us, was very, very funny. Either our memory is failing or we have lost our sense of humor, for as we recollect it our father did the hiding and we jumped and yelled. And it does not seem amusing to us even yet.—Kansas City Star.

Serious Obstacle.
"Has your boy started in business yet?" "No. He's been out of college over a year now, but he's still looking around."

"Why don't you take him in with you?" "Well, to tell the truth, he's got his heart set on a job that pays at least $10,000 a year, and I don't make that much myself."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

By Way of Contrast.
"There is one good thing about buying a really handsome and expensive dress," said Mrs. Bunting to Mrs. Larkin. "What is that?"

"Why, you feel as though you really ought to buy another not quite so good to save your best one."—Puck.

GOOD BACKS FOR BAD

Dixon Residents Are Learning How To Exchange the Old Back For a Stronger One

Does your back ache, feel weak and painful?
Do you suffer headaches, laguer, and depression?

Is the urine discolored, passages irregular?
The kidneys may be calling for help.

Weak kidneys cannot do their work.
Give them the help they need.

To cure a kidney backache you must cure the kidneys.
Use a tested and proven kidney remedy.

Dean's Kidney Pills have stood the test.
Convincing proof of merit in Dixon endorsement:

W. H. Gillespie, 711 Nachusa Ave., Dixon, says: "My back often gets so lame and sore that it is painful for me to stoop over. I have headaches and dizzy spells also. Whenever any of these attacks come on, I use Doan's Kidney Pills and they promptly remove the pain in my back and relieve the headaches and dizzy spells."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't slump ly ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Gillespie had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

URGE WILSON TO ADVISE SOLONS

icient soldiers or equipment to cope with Mexico, and he added that he would not be surprised to see all Mexicans rally around Villa.

Washington, Mar. 13.—President Wilson is seriously considering the advisability of calling out five regiments of National Guard cavalry to go to the border to do patrol duty there in place of the regular soldiers who are being sent into Mexico in pursuit of Villa. In case the President calls on the National Guard cavalry, regiments from New York, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Ohio and Illinois all regarded as "crack" regiments will be chosen for patrol duty at the beginning. In all likelihood infantry regiments in Texas, New Mexico and Arizona will be called on also. Each of these states has a complete regiment of infantry ready for service. Texas in addition to the regiment of infantry has three troops of cavalry it can furnish. There are approximately sixty-five men in each troop.

Washington, Mar. 13.—President Wilson may be urged by congressional leaders to appear before congress and explain his Mexican plans. Several leaders have voiced the belief the President should take congress into his confidence. The growth of this opinion was accepted as evidence that apprehension is felt by congressional leaders over the outcome of the Funston expedition into Mexico to "get Villa."

Congress Aid Necessary.
Two reasons were advanced for the belief the President should fully advise congress as to his plans. First, it was held that congress as the only body authorized to declare war, would have to act if the Mexican forces joined in defense against the invading army. In such case, it is urged, the President would have stronger support in carrying out any move necessary if he were to take congress into his confidence in this preliminary step.

Second, there are strong arguments that the President has no authority, without approval of the senate, to enter into any reciprocal arrangement by which the United States troops may enter Mexico to pursue bandits, and Mexican troops may enter the United States similarly if necessity arises.

Believed Treaty Needed.
Members of congress opposed to the reciprocal arrangement, or to any deal with Carranza, took the position that the President has no authority to authorize an armed force of another country to enter American territory in order to pursue outlaws and criminals, but that this must be arranged by treaty process.

Think President Has Authority.
The tentative position of the administration is strongly against this view. The administration believes the President has full authority to enter into an arrangement by which Carranza troops may follow a "hot trail" into the United States where necessary to pursue bandits. The "hot trail" theory is the one urged by the United States to support its plan for sending a punitive expedition into Mexico to catch Villa and the bandit horde that has been terrorizing the American citizens on the border.

U. S. ORDERS MOTOR TRUCKS

Fifteen Motorcycles Are to Be Used Chasing Villa.

New York, Mar. 13.—Fifty-four motor trucks, the first ever ordered by the United States army, are to be used in the chase across the Mexican border after Francisco Villa.

Colonel A. L. Smith, depot quartermaster at New York, has been instructed by the war department to ask for bids supplying these vehicles, as well as fifteen motorcycles and two wrecking wagons to carry supplies and repairs for the trucks.

Enameled Cooking Ranges

We are selling with a great deal of satisfaction—a Cooking Range enameled with a beautiful pale blue porcelain enamel. The entire range, except the lids, is enameled even to the warming oven and the first joint of pipe. The inside of flues is also enameled.

This makes the most beautiful sanitary and desirable range ever constructed. Washes off like china plate. Absolutely impossible for it to rust, either inside or out.
